POLITEKNIK MALAYSIA
PORT DICKSON

Your Career Blueprint

DUE50132 Communicative English
3 · Orientation & Onboarding

meta-data

Cohort: DPR3B / DPR3A
Lecturers: Julie Marlina binti Hasan

Objective: Job-Hunting Skills & CEFR B2 Proficiency

NotebookLM

You are no longer just students. You are job seekers in training.

The Old Mindset: Passing an English Class

- Memorizing grammar rules
- Passing written exams
- Speaking only when called upon

The New Reality: Securing Your Career

- Building real job-hunting assets
- Understanding employer expectations
- Developing interpersonal confidence to win a job offer

NotebookLM

The Job Hunter's Journey Map

Node 1

Weeks 1-3: Job Seeking Skills

Decoding advertisements, researching companies, and professional pre-employment enquiries.

Node 2

Weeks 4-7: Resumes & Visumes

Crafting high-impact paper resumes and scripting engaging video resumes to highlight your core strengths.

Node 3

Weeks 8-10: Cover Letters

Writing formal, error-free correspondence that proves your qualifications meet employer expectations.

Node 4

Weeks 11-14: The Job Interview

Confident self-introductions, handling tough questions, and professional presentation.

NotebookLM

The Portfolio Scorecard

Theory Test	20%
Assignment 1 (Resume)	15%
Presentation (Video Resume)	20%
Assignment 2 (Cover Letter)	15%
Simulation (Mock Interview)	30%

Every assignment results in a tangible asset you can actually use when applying for jobs after graduation.

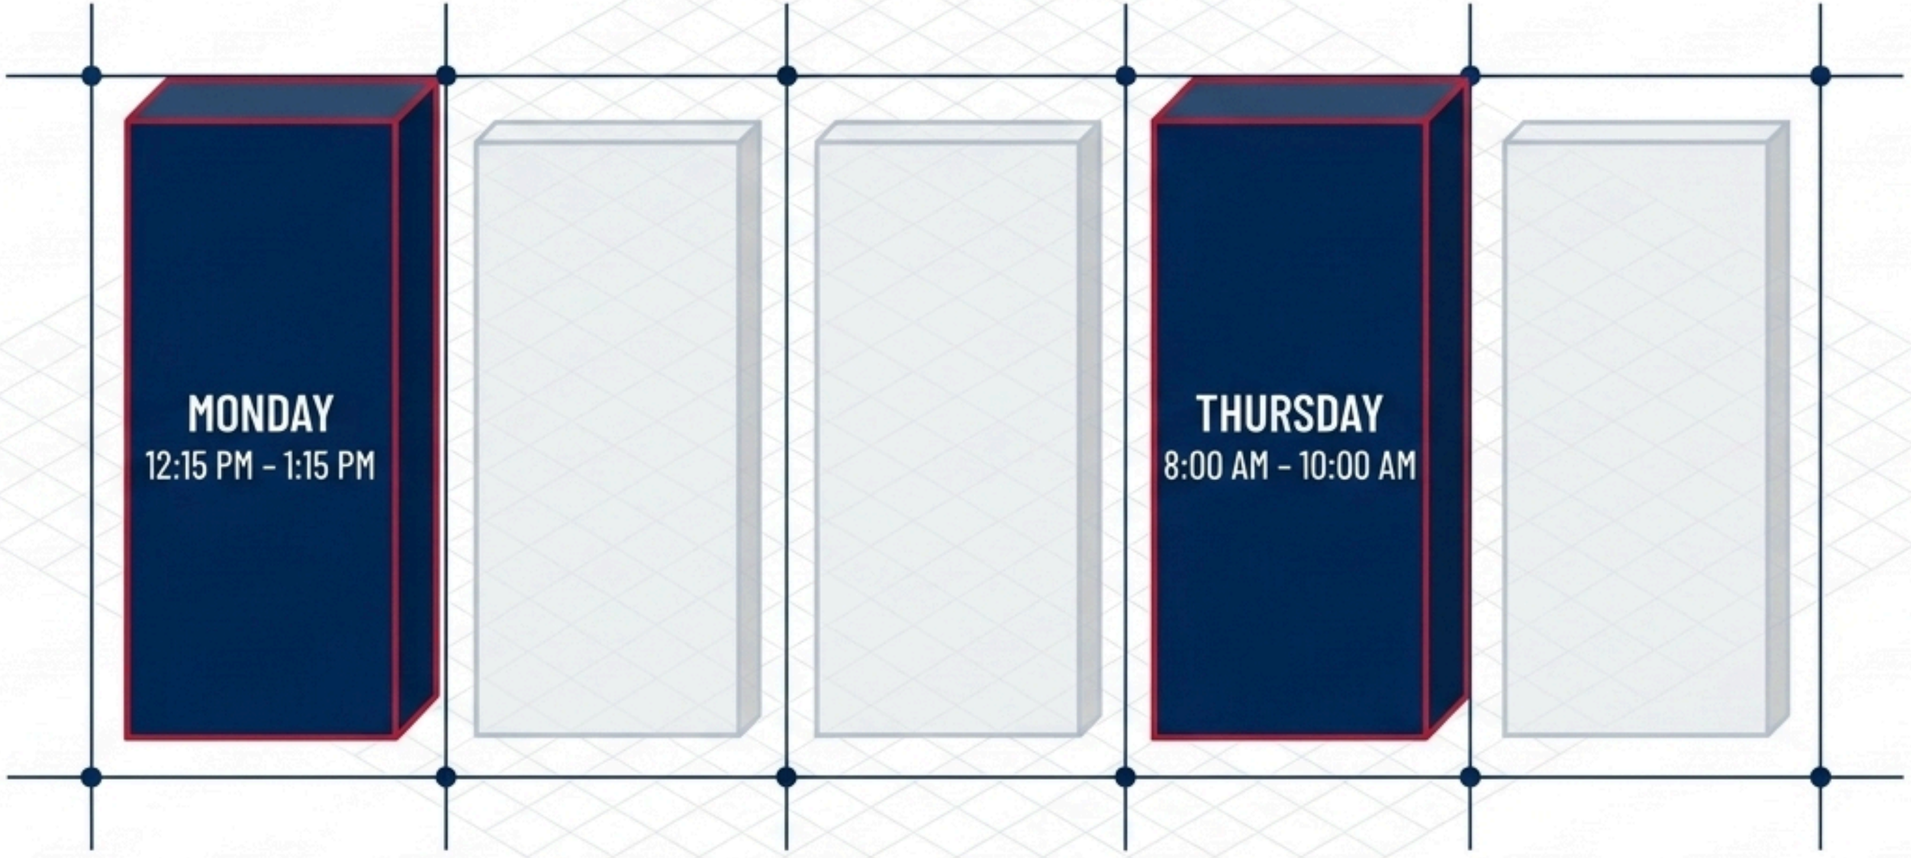

NotebookLM

Classroom Tasks vs. Career Realities

Academic Task	Weight	Career Equivalent
Theory Test	20%	Understanding job advertisement and job hunting terms
Assignment 1 - Resume	15%	Defeating the Applicant Tracking System (ATS) and grabbing the recruiter's attention.
Video Resume Presentation	20%	Crafting engaging video content to highlight core strengths.
Assignment 2 - Cover Letter	15%	Proving cultural fit and securing the actual interview slot.
Mock Interview Simulation	30%	Performing under pressure and winning the final job offer.

NotebookLM

DPR3B Operations Schedule

Punctuality is the first test of a successful job seeker. Treat these hours as your weekly corporate stand-up meetings.

NotebookLM

DPR3A Timetable Confirmation

Please confirm your class schedule and be punctual for every session.

Professional Expectations & Resources

The Toolkit

- Item: DUE50132 Workbook
- Cost: RM 10.00
- Action: Required for all active class sessions.

The Culture

- Policy: Professional Etiquette
- Rule: Acknowledge your lecturer when you see them outside the classroom.
- Context: In the corporate world, acknowledging colleagues and superiors builds your network and demonstrates basic courtesy. Practice it here.

NotebookLM

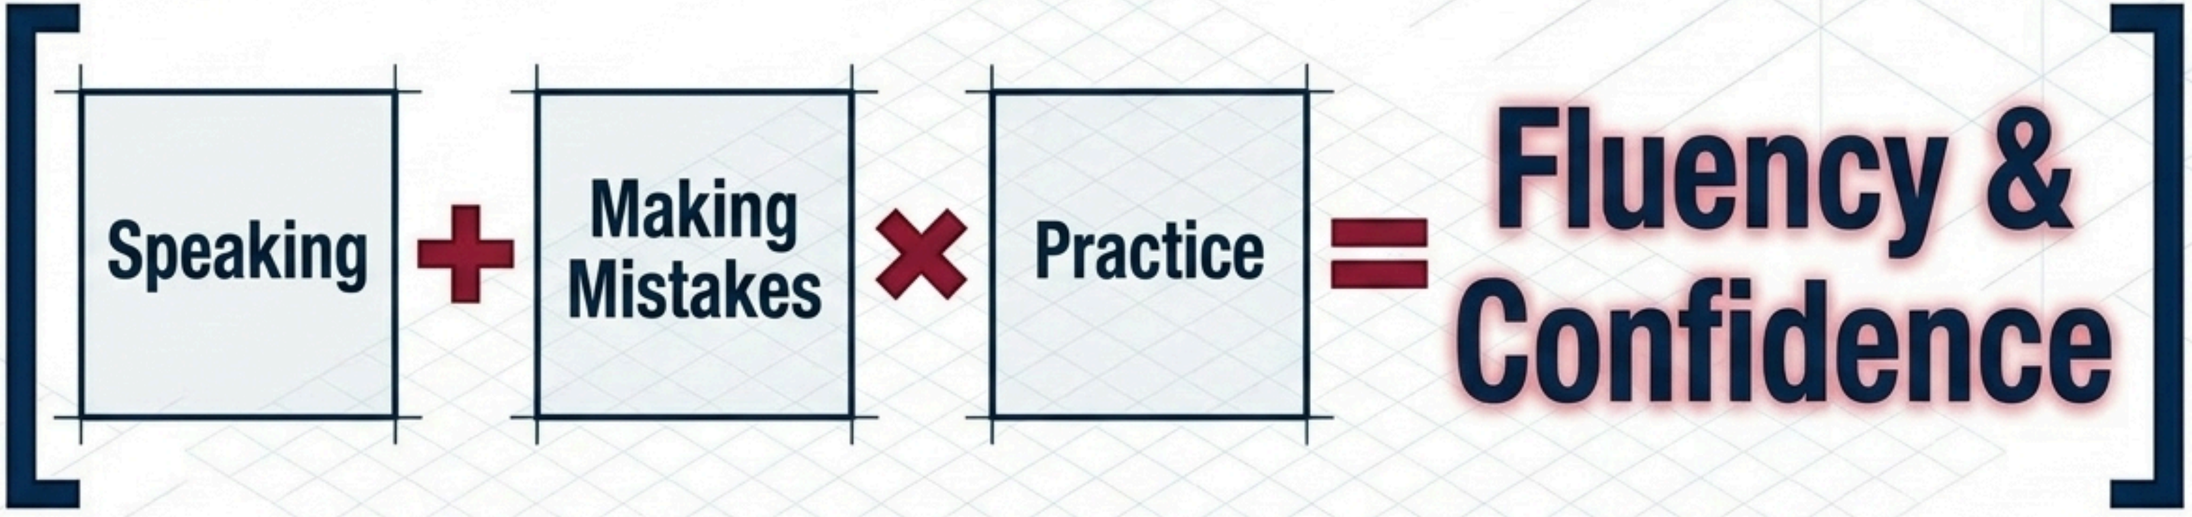

The Attendance Policy

Warning: Undocumented absences are treated exactly like unexcused absences in the workplace—they will impact your standing.

NotebookLM

The Blueprint for Confidence

Try to speak in English. Practice constantly.	Make mistakes, and learn from those mistakes.	This classroom is a safe laboratory. We expect you to stumble—that is how we help you stand up stronger for your real interviews.

NotebookLM

Floor Open for Clarification

Any questions regarding the syllabus, schedule, or expectations?

Welcome to DUE50132. Let’s build your career.

NotebookLM